Fire Extinguishers Save Big Fire.

Undoubtedly two "Patrol" chemical fire extinguishers saved a disastrous fire at the tub shop Friday morning when fire broke out from sparks from an emery wheel. The explosive nature of the dust in a mill is well known and a considerable part of the room was on fire immediately after the first blaze. Fire extinguishers were handy and by the use of two the fire in the building was put out but was driven through the window and into a pile of waste which began to burn. The fire alarm was then sounded and the companies came to the scene and extinguished the fire in the rubbish pile in a short time. Manager Dana says that the fire extinguishers undoubtedly saved the mill from almost complete destruction as the inflammable nature of the building would have resulted in great headway of the flames before the village companies could have possibly reached the spot. What might have been a loss of many thousands dollars worth of property was thus averted by a few dollars' worth of prevention and forethought.

Young Man! Want a Scholarship?

Will any young man in Orleans county who desires a free scholarship at Norwich University, write me? With the splendid work it has done and is now doing this county should have students there. J. L. LEWIS.

Ray P. Webster, Feed and Grain.

Ray P. Webster has purchased of the E. W. Barron Co., the "Mossman" feed mill and Norris tenement house just to the south of the Barron store and will run a general flour, feed and grain business in place of S. C. Currier, whose lease of the mill runs out August 1. Mr. Currier has been in business there for many years and has a thorough knowledge of the business and many are sorry to have him leave the stand. Mr. Webster is however no novice at the business having been one of the firm of Tower & Webster in the feed business here several years ago and has a thorough understanding of the business from a to z. Mr. Kendall, who has been working for Mr. Currier, will work for Mr. Webster. By this move Mr. Webster withdraws from the Barron company altogether and is to conduct this business in his own name and for himself. His announcement will be found on another page of this paper.

Two Orleans County Automobile Drivers' Licenses Revoked.

After careful consideration relating to the revocation of the special operator's license of William H. Benware of Westford, Secretary of State Guy W. Bailey has revoked the license. Mr. Benware was chauffeur for Governor G. H. Prouty and was driving the machine which ran down Hector Mongeon of St. Hyacinth in Burlington on July 7. Mongeon died within a few hours of the injuries received and Benware is now held on a charge of manslaughter. The secretary of state also revoked the automobile license of Harry R. Clark of Charleston. Clark appeared in Orleans municipal court on July 17 in answer to a charge of reckless and negligent driving. He was found guilty and fined $50 and costs. Mr. Clark had been fined twice before for driving his automobile when intoxicated.

A Tribute to the Late Ellery H. Webster

Mr. Editor:— I cannot let the death of my old and valued friend, Ellery H. Webster, pass without a word as to his unusual attributes and my affection for him. By reason of absence from the city, I have but just learned of his passing, and the news affects me almost as one of my own kin. My acquaintance with him covers over thirty years, and for a considerable period we were close neighbors; and a more kind, amiable, loyal and attractive nature—day after day—I have never known. Who ever saw him surly or disagreeable, no matter what trials or physical sufferings he may have been undergoing? Who ever heard from his lips backbiting remarks to the discomfort or injury of a neighbor? Who ever knew him to hesitate when he saw an opportunity to help or accommodate another?

I feel, and the community must feel I am sure, that a real and charming light has gone out. If any one ever knew a more lovable character than Ellery Webster, he is fortunate indeed. I never did.

Very truly yours,
Charles F. Mathewson,
New York, July 20, 1909.

Further Proceedings In the Case of Walter E. Nye, Bankrupt.

Attorney C. R. Powell of Barton, trustee of the bankrupt estate of Walter E. Nye of Barton, filed a petition in the court of bankruptcy, F. E. Miles of Newport, referee, on July 7 for the sale of certain personal property of said Nye. Many parties are interested in this estate but those most deeply interested are: Bertha D. Nye, Zilpah C. Hildreth, C. J. Ufford, who sold the farm to Nye, H. E. Cutler, W. C. Ufford, Charles F. Cutler, S. E. Winslow, International Harvester Co., A. W. Gray's Sons, Winslow & Co., Taplin & Rowell, F. H. and Luda F. Bean, True & Blanchard Co., and Fred Savage. The petition says that Bertha D. Nye, wife of W. E. Nye, claims to own a large part of the personal property petitioned to be sold. That Zilpah C. Hildreth of Barton, also claims to own certain of said personal property and that the petitioner believes that the claims of Mrs. Nye and Zilpah C. Hildreth are false and unfounded in law. The petition further says: "That one Charles J. Ufford of Barton aforesaid, holds a mortgage purporting to be a lien upon all, or nearly all of said personal property; that said mortgage is dated the 17th day of June, A. D. 1908. * * * Your petitioner further avers that at the time said mortgage was given, said bankrupt was insolvent and owed a very large amount in excess of his assets, all of which said Ufford then and there knew; that said mortgage was given with the intent and purpose to prefer said Ufford over and above the other creditors of said bankrupt and with the intent and purpose to hinder, delay and defraud the other creditors of said bankrupt in the due and proper collection of their claims and demands against said bankrupt; that said mortgage is not executed in accordance with the laws of Vermont and that the same is void and is not a lien on said property under and by virtue of the Act of Bankruptcy and the laws of Vermont."

In another instance the petition says: "Your petitioner further avers that on March 19, 1908, said bankrupt and said Bertha D. Nye executed a chattel mortgage on all of said bankrupt's personal property to one William C. Ufford, the son of Charles J. Ufford, * * * that at the time said mortgage was given said Walter E. Nye and said Bertha D. Nye were not owing said William C. Ufford the debt described in the contents thereof and have never owed the same to William C. Ufford; that said mortgage was not executed according to the laws of the State of Vermont, and was given with the intent of hindering, delaying and defrauding the other creditors of said bankrupt in the due and proper collection of their claims and demands against said bankrupt; that at the time said mortgage was given said bankrupt was insolvent and owed a very large amount in excess of his assets, all of which said Charles J. Ufford then knew, and that said mortgage is void and is not a lien on said property."

Other paper given by Nye to Ufford is also claimed to be void. Liens on stock and other property to certain parties mentioned above are also claimed to be void and insufficient. A hearing on the case will be given at the office of the referee in Newport on Tuesday, August 2. This bankruptcy case has caused considerable comment in this county, owing to the fact that the "Nye" or "Ufford" farm, as it is called, is one of the largest in northern Vermont. The farm containing nearly 700 acres, runs nearly 100 cows, has kept over 100 hogs and about 200 hens much of the time. The milking has been done by machine, feed bought by the carload, and everything operated upon a large scale. The farm is not only one of the largest but one of the best as to soil, location and general advantages, in this section.

Body Found with Throat Cut.

The body of an inmate of the State insane asylum at Waterbury, Phillips by name, was found on the bank of the river Friday with the throat cut, he having committed suicide. Phillips disappeared from the asylum Wednesday, having been missed that night. He had been doing carpenter work and was allowed his liberty during good behavior. He was soon to be discharged from the asylum. His condition had improved so much that he was allowed considerable freedom from restraint. When he did not show up Wednesday night a search was made for him, resulting in finding the remains on the river bank.

May Be Shortage in Accounts.

Since the death of Alfred Roscoe, which occurred at New Haven about six weeks ago, there have been developments which have caused much surprise among the people of that and surrounding towns, and if the reports of some of the officers of the town of New Haven prove to be true, Mr. Roscoe, who held the confidence of his fellow townsmen, and held nearly every town office, is short in his accounts, running well up into the thousands of dollars. He had been town clerk, town treasurer, treasurer of the Congregational church, the only church of worship in the town, and he was also treasurer of the Beaman academy fund for many years. The first suspicion that there had been anything wrong in the way that Mr. Roscoe had handled the funds he had in his custody, was when, a few days after his death, the books were investigated and it was found that money had been borrowed from certain banks to pay town expenses. This was not known until the books had been investigated. The amounts of the deficit has been estimated from $1000 to $4000. The fact that the people had great faith in Mr. Roscoe is shown that even now there are many who believe that matters will come out all straight when the books are again investigated. The books have been placed in the hands of an attorney of the village and, expert accountants will be employed in an endeavor to straighten the accounts out and ascertain the amount of the shortage.

Dr. Blake is planning to build a new sleigh or burlow after the style of the old fashion Canadian burlow, except the dasher and back of the seat will be extended a little higher than the ordinary. This beautiful grove is one of the many gems which nature has given to Barton and when the proposed improvements are finished it should become a popular resort.
